

Liam Devine

Liam has been assisting Dr. Ronald Cole in developing interactive storybooks for ESL learning since 2006 at the former Center for Spoken Language Research at the University of Colorado, and continued with him and his partner Dr. Wayne Ward at BLT in October of 2007.

Liam is a graduate of the University of Colorado at Boulder and alumni of the International Film and Television Workshops of Rockport, Maine and The Art Institute of Colorado. With a keen interest in visual storytelling and graphic design, he has developed a strong repertoire of 2D and 3D skills that have greatly influenced the development of BLT's MyST Project (My Science Tutor) and our Delta/FOSS Virtual Tutor System.

When he's not sitting in front of a computer, Liam is often found on the sweaty floor of a local Martial Arts Class or sitting in the sun on a local mountain peak. But you can usually find him creating or learning some form of digital art.
